National Archives and Records Administration:
NARA — Online & On site
Alec Ferretti and Pamela Vittorio
IGG Webinar – June 11, 2022

This presentation gives a basic overview of records types online that were originally held by the Federal Government (NARA), and types of records not digitized and accessible at NARA's various locations throughout the U.S.

For Online Partners:

This information includes where digitized records are accessible on partner sites like Ancestry.com, FamilySearch.com, Fold3.com

https://www.archives.gov/digitization/digitized-by-partners

This link gives you a break-down of where digitized records are available but also the form from which the digital version was created.

You will note whether this set has been microfilmed or not, and the record set # as well as NARA's completion status

Types of records that are most often accessed:

- Census
- Court (Federal)
- Immigration
- Land
- Naturalization
- Military

Some of these records exist on FindMyPast.com and MyHeritage.com. Links that appear on the site are for Ancestry Institution version of the software (access at a local library). From home, use the title in the search engine or the Ancestry or FamilySearch catalogs.

The Newly-Released 1950 Census Landing Page https://www.archives.gov/research/census/1950

Ellis Island One-Step Search Form https://stevemorse.org/ellis2/ellisgold.html

On Site

Shortcut to Archival Databases https://aad.archives.gov/aad/index.jsp

Archives I (AI)   https://www.archives.gov/

Archives II (AII)   https://www.archives.gov/college-park

Report of a Special Inquiry https://catalog.archives.gov/id/12013855

Court Records (e.g., NYC) https://www.archives.gov/files/nyc/public/ny-court-records.pdf

Archives: Kansas City   https://www.archives.gov/kansas-city

Archives: NYC   https://www.archives.gov/nyc

National Archives and Records Administration:
NARA — Online & On site